

GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. The Contract

These General Terms and Conditions form part of the Contract to the extent not inconsistent or incompatible with the Key Commercial Terms to which they attach, and/or any schedule thereto, including any Special Terms, which shall prevail over these General Terms and Conditions.

2. Scheduling

Unless provided otherwise in the Key Commercial Terms or the other Schedules thereto, the Seller shall use reasonable endeavours to arrange deliveries of each Product at evenly spaced intervals in the Term in reasonable proportions over the Term, subject to the Seller's then current operational requirements, prevailing weather seasons, shipping and Load Port constraints.

3. Delivery

Where the Seller reasonably believes that the Buyer will not take delivery of any quantity of the Product, or the Buyer fails to take delivery of any quantity of the Product (the "Untaken Quantity"), either by way of notice from the Buyer or as a result of the Buyer conduct, the Seller may elect not to schedule the delivery of the Product or to cancel the shipment of the Product, and the Buyer shall remain liable to the Seller for any claim for damages the Seller may have in respect of any Untaken Quantity, including but not limited to any price differential. Without limitation to any other recourses under the Contract, equity or at law, in the event there is any Untaken Quantity, the Seller may, in its sole discretion, reduce the Contract Quantity by up to the same Untaken Quantity.

4. Payment

4.1 The Buyer must pay the Price in accordance with this Clause 4 unless any conflicting terms in relation to payment and invoicing are provided in the Key Commercial Terms and/or the Schedules thereto, in which case such terms in the Key Commercial Terms and/or the Schedules thereto shall govern to the extent of any inconsistency.

4.2 Notwithstanding the designation of a payment currency in the Contract, the Seller may, in its option, elect to receive and make payments under the Contract in any other major currency of its choice (the "Currency Option"). For the avoidance of doubt, the Seller may exercise the Currency Option irrespective of whether Delivery of the relevant Product has already been scheduled or performed or whether the relevant payment is already due. The Seller may only exercise the Currency Option by notice to the Buyer. Should the Seller exercise the Currency Option, the paying party shall make the relevant payment in the currency so designated by the Seller using the conversion rate as shown by Reuters at noon on the last banking day (in the country where the Buyer is incorporated) before the day where such payment is made.

4.3 Payment Method

Unless provided otherwise in the Key Commercial Terms and/or the Schedules thereto, all payments hereunder shall be made by electronic funds transfer in immediately available (cleared) funds. Unless the Parties agree otherwise, all payments made by the Buyer shall be made without any offset, deduction, withholding or counterclaim. The Buyer will not be treated as having paid the Seller an amount unless and until the entire amount has been received by the Seller as cleared funds in the Seller's nominated bank account.

4.4 Interest

If the Seller does not receive full payment of an amount under this Contract by the due date for payment, then the Seller may charge interest on all outstanding amounts at the LIBOR applying on the due date for payment plus twelve percent (12%) annually, until all amounts owing have been paid in full by the Buyer. If the LIBOR ceases to be published, unless the Parties agree otherwise, the SOFR shall be used as replacement of LIBOR.

4.5 Security and Changes to Payment Terms

From time to time, the Seller may, acting reasonably, require that the Buyer demonstrates continuing creditworthiness to the Seller's satisfaction, including by requiring the Buyer to disclose its latest financial statements and/or recent management accounts. The Seller may deem that the Buyer's financial position or ability to pay has deteriorated after the Commencement Date if the Buyer is unable or unwilling to disclose such information to the Seller.

The Seller reserves the right to reduce credit terms, modify payment terms, or to require a Buyer to provide security in the form of a letter of credit, guaranty or other security (which shall be in a form and substance and in an amount acceptable to the Seller), at any time, on written notice to the Buyer if : (i) the Seller determines in its sole discretion that the Buyer's or the Buyer's group financial condition has deteriorated since the Commencement Date; (ii) if the Seller at any time does not receive prompt payment; (iii) if Seller's credit insurance is reduced or cancelled; or (iv) if a bank or other financial institution does not, or ceases to, accept the assignment by Seller of any of Buyer's accounts receivable pursuant to factoring or other similar accounts receivable financial arrangements (each a "Credit Event"). If the Seller, in its sole discretion, determines that the Credit Event has been remedied, the Seller may notify the Buyer to release all or a part of that security.

5. Title and Risk

- 5.1 Title to and ownership of the Product and any products manufactured from the Product (the “Goods”) shall not pass until the Seller has received payment in full for the Product in accordance with this Contract (the “Relevant Date”), and until the Relevant Date:
- (a) the Buyer shall hold the Product as bailee for the Seller and, if required by the Seller, store the Product in such a manner that they are clearly identifiable as the property of the Seller; and
 - (b) if the Buyer sells the Product, or any Goods, the Buyer’s right to receive payment from its customer will be held in trust for the Seller and any proceeds of sale will be the property of the Seller, and the Buyer will hold the proceeds of any such sale on account for the Seller, separately from its own money.
- 5.2 The Buyer acknowledges that the Seller may be entitled under relevant law to register its interest in the Product or the Goods as a security interest, and may be required, for that purpose, to file financing statements and other relevant information, as appropriate, in order to evidence its ownership of the Product or the Goods. The Buyer agrees to cooperate with the Seller to ensure that such financing statements are properly filed and/or recorded and to cooperate with the Seller, as necessary, to perfect or continue the perfection of its security interest in the Product.
- 5.3 If a Suspension Event occurs, the Seller may repossess such quantity of the Product which has been delivered but not paid for in full in accordance with this Contract, and in the event the Seller exercises such right, the Buyer will provide all necessary instructions to facilitate the release of the relevant quantity of the Product to the Seller.
- 5.4 Risk in and to the Product shall pass from the Seller to the Buyer when delivery occurs in accordance with the Incoterm governing the delivery of the Products under this Contract.

6. Force Majeure

- 6.1 A Party will be excused from performance of its obligations under this Contract (except for the obligation to make payment when due of invoices issued hereunder) to the extent prevented or delayed by a Force Majeure Event, and such obligations shall be suspended, without liability for damages, costs or expenses incurred or sustained by the other Party to the extent made necessary by the event of Force Majeure.
- 6.2 A Party impacted by a Force Majeure Event must promptly notify the other Party as soon as reasonably practicable from the existence of the same, together with details on which of its obligations are impacted, to what extent it will impact performance under the Contract, and when it reasonably expects to be able to resume performance.
- 6.3 If a Force Majeure Event affects the Seller’s ability to supply the Product to the Buyer and other customers (including internal uses or to a Related Entity), the Seller may allocate reduced quantities or quality of the Product sold to the Buyer in such manner as it reasonably determines.
- 6.4 The Seller may (but shall not be required to) offer supply of product of a similar quality from other sources in substitution for Product in order to satisfy the quantity that would otherwise have been sold and purchased under the Contract had it not been for the Force Majeure Event.
- 6.5 The Party invoking a Force Majeure Event shall use commercially reasonable efforts to attempt to mitigate the impact of the Force Majeure Event and to resume performance of the impacted obligations as soon as reasonably practicable, however nothing in this Contract shall require any Party to settle any strikes or labour disputes nor to submit to what it considers to be unreasonable conditions or restrictions in respect to regulatory actions or permit terms.
- 6.6 Failure to deliver or accept delivery of Product that is excused by or results from the operation of a Force Majeure Event shall not extend the Term of the Contract and the quantity of Product to be delivered and accepted under the Contract shall be reduced by the quantity affected by such failure. If a Force Majeure Event prevents a Party from supplying or taking delivery of any Product for a continuous period of six (6) months, then either Party may terminate this Contract by giving one (1) month’s written notice to the other Party.

7. Suspension of Deliveries

- 7.1 A “Suspension Event” occurs if:
- (a) the Buyer or its Related Entity breaches this Contract;

- 7.2 If a Suspension Event occurs, the Seller, in its absolute discretion, may:
- (a) suspend any delivery of Product to the Buyer until such time as the breach is remedied or the event is settled to the reasonable satisfaction of the Seller; and/or
 - (b) sell to any other person or otherwise utilise such quantity of Product as would have been delivered to the Buyer had the delivery not been suspended.
